

Statist

Someone who believes that the State is a legitimate institution, and that it is above normal human morality, i.e. that it has political authority and may legitimately engage in aggression against people.

Sacred Object: Flag.

Minarchist

Starting to mistrust the State, but still believes in some forms of State solipotence for courts, police, and national defense, and is willing to legitimize rulership by voting, petitioning & lobbying.

Sacred Object: Constitution.

Voluntaryist

Agrees with the non-aggression principle (NAP), opposes government aggression, and rejects voting, but is "in the closet," and perhaps fearful of publicly and explicitly rejecting the State.

Sacred Ideal: NAP.

Anarchist

Principled NAPster who hates the State, rejects rulership, and is courageous enough to say so.

Sacred Ideals: NAP, Integrity.
